

Momoh had an electric Christmas

The electrical work was completed on 23rd just in time for Christmas – although it looks very basic (no chasing in of wires & sockets etc) the important thing to remember is that it is life changing for them

Let there be light !

I apologise if you think these photos are boring, but you can tell by the look on Momoh's face just what it means to him, and the rest of the family. Pastor Mark reports that the family are truly grateful for this Christmas gift

Shipment of goods to Freetown

I am pleased to report that the consignment of goods arrived in Freetown on 20th December and having cleared customs Fayah collected the goods last Tuesday, just in time for Christmas. The vast majority of the consignment was Oxford United kit with other football kit provided by Aberaeron FC & Banbury Irish FC, plus some stationery items, school blazers and footballs & mini footballs. Fayah has already distributed goods to Pastor Mark & Mahera Wharf FC and other donations will go to Enable the Children (physiotherapy charity) and three other school communities that I support.

The value of the consignment was around £8,500! On Christmas morning I received the photo below with the message “Our first Christmas gift”

I look forward to receiving more photos very soon.
